

"Beautification Of Belle Glade Is Everyone's Business"

First Project Now Completed

The completion of the first project of "Operation Face-Lift" is announced by Belle Glade's Beautification program chairman, Dr. D. A. Files.

An eye-sore corner, opposite the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, has been dressed up with sod, plants, brick terrace work and a sign. "Beautification of Belle Glade is EVERYONE'S Business."

"We hope that this slogan will help to inspire all citizens of Belle Glade to realize that this project is everyone's business," the chairman stated. "The cooperation our committee has received on this first project has been very rewarding. If this is any indication of help in the future, our job will be fairly easy," Files said.

Many contributions and many man hours went into this project. The committee extends their thanks to each and everyone. Files emphasized that this is a non-profit organization and contributions are needed to carry out an effective program.

The next project will be placing pointed palm trees on South Main Street from Avenue A to Avenue E. This should be completed within the next three weeks, the chairman stated.

Recognized for contributing to the City's first completed project are: Raymond Frank and Dow McSwain, putting up sign; Jack Hollingsworth and Ed Lock, painting sign; Mrs. C. W. McDonald, two pointed palms; Hoke Cooper, muck and fill; Bozo Greer, muck fill and grading; Harold Zumpf, bricks; Rinker, mortar, sand, curb strips; Abner Smith, Brothers, laying bricks.

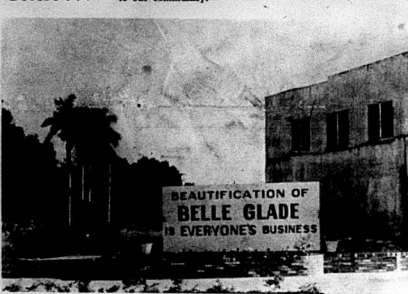

Weekly-Mace Sod Co. sod; Mickey McKee, cleaning out front planter; T. E. Hollingsworth, building frame for sign; Seminole Supply, boards for sign; Dr. Townsend and Billy Evans, plants; Dr. Robert Allen and Boys Scouts, laying sod; Dr. Joe Oresenig, spraying caper grass; City of Belle Glade, use of heavy equipment for removing front pillars, installing water and no-parking signs. The Belle Glade Herald, for publicity.

Corner of Main Street and Avenue A

Before . . .

Weed-grown and cluttered with debris of what remained of a service station, the corner was a definite eyesore to our community.

After . . .

A brick terraced garden plot, planted with sod, flowers and palms, reflects what planning and unified effort can do. A sign at the right reminds that "Beautification of Belle Glade is Everyone's Business." As yet the condemned building at right easily distracts from the project — but, it is hoped, not for long.

Bailey Gets Road Committee

Mayor Bill J. Bailey has recently been appointed to serve as a member of the Committee on Roads and Highways of the Florida League of Municipalities by League President Cleveland Inso, Jr., Commissioner of Clearwater.

Sugar - Vegetables - Cattle Studied By Mid - Westerners

Automation in agricultural production was studied by Commissioners of Agriculture of a dozen mid-western states Monday as the guests of John Causey, Glades Assistant County Agent, Bob Lee of the Glades Sugar House, Duda Farms and Sid Crochete, cattleman deluxe of the US Sugar Corporation.

The life cycle of the lowly radish, and its mechanical handling from the field to the car-loading of packaged and branded retail packages were activities he listed for remembrance back home.

Chief Cowboy Crochete entertained the visitors with the weight records of first cross Brahman — Brangus Charbray, Bradford and others. Birth, 90, 120 and 180-day weight records of specific herds gave the visitors food for thought.

"Big Sugar" entertained at luncheon the visiting Commissioners, and their assistant.

Dr. Forsee, in Charge of the Everglades Experiment Station conducted the visitors through the station's establishment with a bird's-eye picture, verbal and eye-bite.

Florida's Commissioner Doyle Conner had previously entertained the group of fellow commissioners with salt water and fresh water fishing, but was unable to make the Glades trip because of previous commitment.

Annual Christmas Lighting Contest Slated For Dec. 21

Tuesday, December 21, is the date tentatively set for Belle Glade's annual Christmas Lighting Contest. Mrs. J. P. Halbrook announced. The event is being spearheaded by Belle Glade Garden Club and the Garden Study Club. Mrs. J. P. Halbrook and Mrs. J. L. Freedlund are contest chairman representing the two clubs.

"We'd like everyone to participate this year," Mrs. Halbrook urged — "both in business and homes categories."

"We're working closely with our City Beautification program, and Christmas time is the time of year everyone can help make our business district and homes particularly attractive."

Every contest participant must register with the Chamber of Commerce to be eligible to compete. No entries will be taken after 5 p. m. on the list so phone your name in early.

Division and category details are being worked out and will be announced next week.

Extras For Xmas

Postmaster Rosa Nash announces extra services for Belle Glade postoffice patrons during the holidays:

Open Wednesdays and Saturdays until 5 p. m.

No window service on Sundays — any patron in need of special service, except money orders, may hang on rear door of box lobby.

As long as patrons arrive inside for services on all week days, even after 5 p. m. service will be given.

Please remember: it is a early — use Zip Code on all mail.

Use bundling system on local as well as out-of-town Christmas cards — HAND THEM TO

EMPLOYEE IF PRACTICAL.

Office will close promptly at 5:30 on Christmas Eve

East Lake High Phased Out In 2 Years

At its Wednesday night meeting the School Board acted favorably on the motion of Board Member Williams that East Lake Senior High School be phased out over a period of two school years, beginning in September, 1966.

The Board's building and improvement program calls for additional lunchroom facilities, industrial art shop, library facilities and administrative offices, as well as other relief to the plant at East Lake to make it a fully accredited Junior High.

The present enrollment of East Lake High is slightly in excess of 100, in grades 10 thru 12, and students will

Annual Meeting PBC Cattlemen's Assoc. Dec. 16

The Palm Beach County Cattlemen's Association will hold its annual meeting at the Canal Point Community Center, Thursday, Dec. 16, 1965. The announcement made by Kent Price, Association Agent, said that J. O. Pearce, Jr., will be the guest speaker to discuss the "Barbecue Program" for Palm Beach County and Florida.

Preceding the meeting a "pot luck" dinner will be served at 7 p. m.

100 Volunteers Preparing 1,500 Meals For Big Barbecue

Who buys the chickens, and how many will they be drawn, dressed and halved, what time will they be delivered, where will they be kept until the cooks are ready to put them on the barbecue? Ed Pearce, Jr., who has the barbecue, said he has a spray gun and the compressor to spray the barbecuing chickens — these and many more questions must be answered correctly in preparation to feed 1500 to 2000 women club and library members will be busy with the balance of this week arranging for the barbecue at the Marina Saturday from five till 11.

This cooperative effort for the benefit of the Hospital, the Library and PTA has for its purpose the raising of funds, and every nickel that can be saved

Belle Glade Bank Pays 1st Dividend

Sixty-nine stockholders owning 30,000 shares of stock in the two-year-old Bank of Belle Glade, will receive a fifty cents per share declared dividend within the next few days.

The action was taken at the regular meeting of the Board of Directors on Wednesday afternoon, at which time President McDaniel said, "We are very proud to be able to declare this dividend, on our two years effective operation. It is a firm indication of the general economy of the area and of the effectiveness of the Board of Directors."

It is pointed out that the capitalization of the bank is owned almost entirely by residents of the Glades; the Board of Directors are Glades farmer and business men, with one living outside of the area, but busy quite a bit of the time with Glades farmers.

The Bank of Belle Glade was chartered as of November 14th, 1963, with a capitalization of $300,000, surplus of $120,000 and undivided profits of $68,000. Total assets of the institution as of December 1st are listed at $432,000, with deposits of $1,531,000.

C. A. (Murt) Thomas of Lake Harbor is Chairman of the Board, E. B. McDonald, President, W. W. McGill, vice president and cashier.

South Shore Water Co-op Formed

Residents from South Bay westward to the Hendry County line have joined in the formation of a Cooperative to be known as the South Shore Water Association, which has as its objective the furnishing of piped fresh water to homes, businesses, farms and industrial users.

A complimentary effort being discussed is that of building family living units consisting of one-family homes, and apartments.

Barreth type housing units are also included in the discussions, to be used by employees of farmers in the area.

John Stewart and Ben Hill of the Farm Home Administration attended a Tuesday night meeting when Ed Watson, E. B. Baldwin and E. W. Weaver were selected as organization directors. Mr. Watson will serve as Chairman, while Messrs. Baldwin and Weaver will secure a feasibility study and report by competent engineers.

Preliminary estimates of a million dollar needed credit are subject to the engineers plan and estimates of costs of the project are finally agreed on by the cooperative membership.

Chairman Watson asks that those who wish to participate indicate their decision to Clarence Knecht,

Miss Majorettes Will Be Selected At Saturday Events

Miss Majorette of Palm Beach County will be selected at the Sugarland Jamboree N. B. T. A. Open Contest to be held December 11, at Belle Glade High School Gym, beginning at 8:30 Saturday morning and running all through the day.

Over six hundred people are expected to attend the events when a Miss Majorette winner will be named in three divisions — Juvenile, Junior and Senior. Winners will be selected on a combination point system on both Twirling and Strutting routine by eight qualified N. B. T. A. out-of-town judges. Trophies will be given to winners in all four contest divisions as well. Teams and Corps are slated first in appearance at 8:30 followed by solos at around 11 a. m.

Preceding all day event Saturday, a Beauty Contest for Twirlers will be held at the Holiday Inn, Friday night, December 10, beginning at 7:30, when a Sugarland Majorette Queen, Sugarland Sweetheart, and Sugarland Princess will be selected. Some 50 girls have signed for competition. All contestants are to wear uniforms and appear without batons.

Both events are being conducted by Pat Anderson Devos. An invitation is extended to all who would like to attend both events. There is no admission charge. Mrs. Anderson asked all who would like to attend Saturday's events to feel free to come at any hour and leave at will.

Mrs. Devos, now living in Lake Worth, is a former well-known resident of Belle Glade and continues to conduct Baton classes here. She is the daughter of City Finance Director Frank Anderson and Mrs. Virginia Anderson.

Ramus Erik Boe Pahoee Pioneer Buried Tuesday

Services for Ramus Erik Boe Larson Boe, 90, of 2816 E. Main St., Pahoee, who died Saturday night in the Wilkes Nursing Home in Lake Park, were conducted at the Wetherington Funeral Chapel in Pahoee at 10 A. M. Tuesday.

Burial followed in Woodlawn Cemetery, West Palm Beach.

Pallbearers were Johnny Thomas, Bob Simonson, Marshall Lair, O. B. McClure, H. J. Anderson and Leo Maxwell.

Mr. Boe, known as Papa Boe was a native of Copenhagen, Denmark, where he was a cheese maker. His first home on coming to the United States was in California. He came to Florida in the early 20's, settling first in Homestead, then pioneering in Glades County. He came to Pahoee in 1921 and raised avocados for many years.

He is survived by his son, Old Boe of Pahoee, a younger son, Hugo Boe was killed in an accident in the Pahoee area when the truck he was driving went out of control and into a canal. He had apparently had a heart attack. Wetherington Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Cattle Sales

Cattle sales dropped at Glades Livestock Market on Monday. 346 head were sold compared to 636 last week. Pete Clemons, manager said the market was steady, just the number was off. Prices were steady on all classes with a good representation of buyers.

The 346 head brought in a total of $36,782.10. 62 percent went to slaughter and 38 percent to stockers.

Applications Being Accepted For Post Office Employment

Forms for applications to take an examination for possible employment as a substitute clerk-carrier at the post offices in Belle Glade, Canal Point, Pahoee, and South Bay now are available, according to local postmaster Rosa A. Nash. These forms may be obtained from any of the above named post offices and should be mailed to Postal Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, Room 804, 51 S. W. First Avenue, Miami, Florida, 33130. These applications may be sent in further notice. According to the Secretary of the Postal Board, certifications to the post offices named here will be made FIRST of eligibles who reside within the delivery area of the post office requesting certification or who are bona fide patrons of such office; second, of eligibles residing elsewhere in the county in which the position is located; and third, all others.

Rev. Roseman Speaker At P. T. A. Meeting

"Spiritual Development of the Child" was the topic discussed by Reverend R. Y. Roseman of St. Peter's Lutheran Church at the Monday night Parent-Teachers meeting held December 6, at Belle Glade Elementary School. Children and teachers whose room had the highest percentage of parents present at P. T. A. meetings were presented trophies. Mrs. Kathryn Davidson's sixth grade room won at the November P. T. A. meeting and Mrs. Evelyn Johnson's first grade room won at the December meeting. Mrs. Evelyn Sheahan, P. T. A. president elect, presented the checks and trophies to the winners.

'In US Monolithic Big Government - Unified Big Labor Fragmented Big & Little Business Are Competing' Says Expert

Excerpts from Address by
Bryce N. Harlow
Director of Governmental Relations
The Procter & Gamble
Manufacturing Company

It is a deceiving time, there in the nation's capital. It seems, at this point, so peaceful, so calm, even quietly reassuring.

The President of the United States, Washington's dynamo and compass, has been until yesterday 1,500 miles west of here, disporting himself among the castles of Texas, recuperating in the milieu he loves best from a color-televized abdominal indignity inflicted by the AMA. In Washington, by the way, it is rumored that there were ten physicians in attendance, and they voted 6-4 against closure.

Similarly, with Congress. It, too, is recuperating. It is suffering from a ten-month legislative caesarian, conducted with spurs without benefit of anesthesia, and has just tottered to adjournment in acute physical and psychological torment. It has dispersed to 50 states and 435 Congressional districts. Both ears are anxiously to the ground, its nose inquisitively glowing a furrow, its elevated bobbing posterior betokening its perpetual perturbation over how it is with the folks back home.

During this interlude on Constitution Avenue, the minions of the Executive Branch are expectantly perched on their marble nests, warming and turning their federal eggs which they hope to hatch well before Christmas. These eggs are task forces which are eagerly probing for new problems not yet discernable on the American scene and also for solutions not yet needed, for both troubles and remedies are indispensable for the election year upcoming.

So, in Washington, only what the cynics call "the third legislative branch" — the United States Supreme Court — has been minding the federal store.

In short, the officialdom I left behind last evening has been in the process of catching its breath after the most sustained and strenuous executive-legislative bango in history. Now the denizens of our Capital City are grinding for the renewed rumble sure to come when a rested, rehabilitated, super charged Texan sinks his spurs deep into the still quivering flanks of Congress as it reassembles on January 10.

This is, then, a period of active gestation for government and a period of deepening crisis for the business community — for none of us is free of the storm. We are at the moment in the belated eye of the federal hurricane, and the tempest will shortly and surely resume with all the fury and force it evidenced in the last 10 months.

I suggest that most of us in the business area make a grave mistake in gauging the attitudes and problems of people in public life. Instinctively we assume it to be their duty to check with you and me before they wreak injury upon us in any fashion. We tend to believe that as public servants it is their responsibility to be adequately informed before they reach decisions, and we tend to rely on an assumption that they will so perform.

In the frenzied life of the public official there is never enough time to assimilate all the information thrust upon him. There is never time to ponder, never time to reflect. Rarely is there opportunity to devote more than a few interrupted minutes to any given topic; and invariably, just as one is mastering a difficult intellectual task, an extraneous matter is intruded requiring a total diversion of attention to meet some public crisis.

It is unreasonable to expect people so constantly harassed to keep in mind one's pet hopes and needs. If you stay alive to the fact that when YOU are not talking to one of these prime movers, someone else is — and the chances are good it's your worst enemy — then it is easier to understand and how to keep your business sparklingly healthy in the Washington scene.

Every House member has, on the average, 450,000 constituents; every United States Senator has many, many more. As with executive branch officials, when you are not in their offices someone else surely is, and when your letter is not there, someone else's is — and when your industry does not testify, be sure that an opponent will.

All of which is to say that your situation in Washington is an unchanging one — that of continually reminding those in authority, first, that you do in fact exist, second, that you have serious problems worthy of sympathetic attention, and third, that you have the ability and the know-how to be persistent and even, if need be, a bit troublesome if you should be cavalierly thrust aside. Given these from the perennially exhausted public servant.

Let us not forget, by the way that these men in key federal slots are first and foremost political. Even those in the Executive Branch who have matured out of government in non-political environments become, once they accept Presidential appointment, members of a political team, and in time they become emotionally as well as officially committed to the success of that team.

Their decisions are never free of political influence.

And the alerting of the citizenry to the business community and its problems — helping voters to comprehend how richly they benefit from a competitive enterprise kept free — is clearly a critical mission of this group and its counterparts the nation around. This function gives to the heart of successful governmental relationships; without it, and where it counts the most, the business community becomes a political cunch.

It is commonly said that today we have big government, big labor and big business. That is dangerously misleading. Instead, we have monolithic big government, unified big labor, and fragmented big and little business.

We of business have little time left effectively to influence the course of our country.

If the vastly able, tough, pragmatic and bluntly assertive leaders of American business waver on issues of principle under the enticements or the threats of the political thrusters of these times — and if other proponents of free enterprise likewise embrace expediency — then, my friends, you may dispense with further discussion on business-government relations. For then you and I, and our children, will no longer work, twixt government and business, but in it, and then the whole golden purpose of this land — human fulfillment in freedom — will have been lost.

Navy Sets 11 December For Annual NROTC Exam

Vice Admiral B. J. Semmes, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, announced today that the 20th annual national competitive examination for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps will be given on 11 December 1965. Eligible high school seniors and graduates should submit their applications before 19 November 1965. Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice from among the 52 colleges with a regular NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives a subsistence allowance of $50.00 per month for not more than four years. During the summers the student goes on interesting training cruises as a midshipman. After successfully completing a baccalaureate level college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a career officer with the Navy's modern fleets. Immediate challenging assignments to aviation training, nuclear training or submarine training offer varied career opportunities to those graduates who apply and qualify.

High school seniors and graduates who will have reached the 17th but not the 21st anniversary of birth on 30 June 1966 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test.

Xmas Seals Sale Totals $31,193

The Christmas Seal Campaign now totals $31,193, according to Emmett S. Roberts, Christmas Seal Campaign chairman for the Palm Beach County Tuberculosis and Health Association. "The returns are slightly higher than this date last year but a long way from being enough to finance the association's program next year. I hope all of our citizens will answer their Christmas Seal letter as generously as they can so the association can continue its year-round work in research, education, and control of TB, emphysema, and other respiratory diseases," Mr. Roberts said. Reminders are being sent to those who have not answered their Christmas Seal letters. Mr. Roberts noted that "there is always a time lag when reminders go out and I hope those who have contributed recently will understand and accept the reminders as a Thank You note."

Scout Troop 601 Attends Annual Dist. Camporee

Fifteen members of Boy Scout Troop 601, sponsored by the Episcopal Church, attended the annual camporee near Port Mayaca this past weekend, and eight troops of the Glades District, Gulf Stream Council, were present. Belle Glade Explorer Post 612 was also in attendance.

Scouts from Belle Glade Troops 601, 621 and 622 competed with five other district troops in six campcraft contests.

Troop 601 won a first place blue ribbon in the over-all competition, and two blue ribbons along with three white ribbons in the individual contests.

At the Saturday night campfire, the Order of the Arrow performed Indian dances. Awards were presented and skits were judged at this time. Singing was enjoyed by all troops. An O. A. tap-out ceremony ended the campfire activities.

Sunday morning Church services were held at the camporee site.

Scouts in attendance from Troop 601 were: Chippy Haines, Ricky Shoemaker, Doug Wall, Bruce Wells, Robert Matthews, Paul White, Brian Moore, Gerald Pittman, Steve Berryhill, Scott Berryhill, Bryan Cross, Jamie Stevenson, Charles Close, Steven Close and Stephen Pate.

The following adults were in attendance: Committee Director Reg Lewis, Troop Committeemen Chuck Haines and Dick Shoemaker, and Assistant Scoutmaster Feldon Pittman. Transportation was furnished by the adult leaders, as well as Arthur Wells and Francis Cross.

A Touch Of Glamour For South Bay

Unbelievable - A one word description of the magic Jeri Green has brought to South Bay with her new beauty salon, "Jeri's Bay of Beauty." The name of the salon is obviously derived from the town South Bay. Your attention is attracted to the red front door no matter what side of the highway 27 you are driving on.

Mrs. Green and her very versatile husband, Clifford, designed and completely remodeled the shop. The entire shop has French Provincial furniture, which includes an authentic French telephone. Jeri also has two French poodles named Tiki and Cigi, so as you can see everything is French except the customers!

The color scheme is red, gold, and white. The Salon is carpeted in blood-red, and the windows are covered with white Austrian shades with red tulle festoons draped across the sides and top of window. Music is piped through the entire salon.

The first room you enter holds the comb-out tables and reception desk. Above each table is a very large oval shaped mirror, with a gold frame. There is a statue of the Biblical character Ruth. The kitchen at the end of the room, is cleverly hidden by flagpole panels and drapes. Off to one side is the restroom which has a very low curtain hiding a fuse box. There is also a hanging basket filled with artificial flowers in all the autumn colors. Mr. Green built a vanity under the lavatory to hide the pipes, and made a door for the shower from one half of the sliding doors used around bath tubs.

There is a bedroom at the other side of the room, and a storage closet.

A separate room houses the dryers and manicuring table.

Mrs. Green has been in business for ten years in South Bay, opening her first shop in a house trailer. She has been beautician for 21 years and is originally from Columbus, Ohio, where she had her first shop.

Mr. Green is from Lagan, Ohio. The couple celebrated their silver anniversary September 22, 1965, which is almost impossible to believe after seeing Jeri. So ends the story of a fabulous beauty salon in a small town, which equals or surpasses the beauty and atmosphere usually found only in large cities.

Florida Schools Buy $23 Million Of Florida's Farm Production

A typical meal served in Florida public school cafeterias adds up to a varied fare, nourishing both to the bodies of Florida youngsters and to the economy of Florida agriculture.

The recent observance of "Legislative Appreciation Day" throughout the state's school lunch program was a salute to the lawmakers who have had a hand in making the program a state-wide success it is today.

But even more appropriate, the event drew attention to an often overlooked double blessing.

Florida's public school system is one of Florida agriculture's most important customers.

Yet, the benefits are not onesided. Without the supplies which come from Florida farms, groves and ranches, the schools would be forced to open a lot more cans and jars during the several months of the school year that the rest of the nation's agriculture is practically dormant.

School lunch program officials estimate that Florida farmers derive $23 million income from them annually. It figures this way:

Each day, the public schools of Florida purchase supplies amounting to $164,174 for the "Type A" lunch. Since there are 180 school days in the year, this adds up to total purchases of $29,551,320.

Of this, about 80 percent of the supplies come from Florida agricultural production.

The school authorities offer this as the lunch room fare on a typical day:

A two-ounce serving of Florida - produced chicken (adding up to 280,727 lbs.).

One-quarter cup of Florida fresh potatoes (totaling 84,050 pounds).

One-quarter cup of Florida fresh green beans (k totaling 2,221 hampers or 62,197 pounds).

One-eighth cup, or two 4 1/2-inch sticks, of Florida fresh celery (adding up to 591 crates or 31,939 pounds).

One Florida radish (totaling 16,570 pounds).

A fruit cup including one-eighth cup of Florida fresh orange (adding up to 831 crates or 74,004 pounds); one-eighth cup of Florida fresh grapefruit (1,218 crate or 97,498 pounds); and one-eighth cup of Florida fresh strawberries (504 crates or 15,129 pounds).

One-half pint of Florida-produced milk (totaling 672,389 half-pints).

Day-in, day-out, that's a lot of groceries - contributing to the physical well-being of hundreds of thousands of Florida young people.

When I read of the great athletic achievements of strapping young men of Florida over the past several years, I like to think that Florida's farmers and the Fla. school lunch program have been partners contributing significantly to those achievements.

Women's Civic League Bldg. Fund Ranches $3,689.50

The Women Civic League bi-monthly meeting was held Thursday night, December 2, 1965, at the home of Mrs. Willie Mae White. Members present were Mesdames: Amelia Houston, Frances Morgan, Ruby Bidley, Lisa Peterson, Willie Mae White, Eva Oliver, Ida Mizell, Reba Taylor, Daisy Roundtree, Christine Maynor, Mary Barber and Dorothy McCurdy.

The give-away trip to Nassau was postponed from Thanksgiving weekend to Christmas weekend or later, as convenient to the winner. All club members will have available tickets for the give away. The donation of one dollar will add the club house building fund. The winner will be selected Thursday night, December 17, 1965 at the ball-rooms Hall. The affair will feature a cake walk; all cakes homemade and delicious. Everyone is invited.

Each club member has pledged one hundred or more dollars toward the club house building fund. Pledges paid and donations received this past week totalled $327.40. Non-member donations of $280.00 has been pledged to be paid by December 15th. The club wishes to express its deepest appreciation to all persons and firms who are giving their support in our building drive and special projects. The total amount in our building fund has reached the three thousand, six hundred eighty-nine dollar and fifty cents mark ($3,689.50).

MR. AND MRS. PETER JOHN HENNING

Seiler-Henning Wedding Vows Solemnized Sunday

Miss Judith Elise Seiler became the bride of Peter John Henning in a 2 p. m. ceremony Sunday at Community Methodist Church, Belle Glade.

The Reverend W. R. Boland performed the double ring ceremony before the altar flanked with arrangements of white gladioli and white mums and a pair of pyramid candelabras with lighted tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Seiler of 208 N. W. Ave. I, Belle Glade. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Ross Winnie, and the late Mrs. Winnie, Glades Pioneer. She graduated from Belle Glade High School in 1965 and was active in P. H. A. for four years and president in her senior year.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred P.

Henning of King's Point, Stock Island, Key West, Fla. He attended Key West High School and is associated in business with Henning and Sons of Key West. Mrs. Gordon Corbin, organist played traditional wedding music and accompanied Milton Carpenter, soloist who sang "My Heart at Thy Sweet Voice" and "The Lord's Prayer." Given in marriage by her father the bride was radiant in a white organza over tulle, floor length gown, fashioned with a scooped neck, accented with alencon lace, which also extended on each side of the bodice to the waist-line. The full skirt banded at the bottom by alencon lace ended in a chapel length train. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was attached to a sea- tin rose headpiece. Her only jewelry was a pearl pendant, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white butterfly roses with English Holly.

Maid of honor, Miss Bonnie Godsey wore a floor length red velvet gown styled in empire fashion with scoop neck and short sleeves. Her hat was a rose of the same material as dress, with illusion veiling. She carried a cascade of pale green Fuji mums and English Holly.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Rachel McElhenry, Miss Pat Fisher, and Miss Sheri Burgess. They wore identical gowns and carried bouquets like the honor attendant.

Fred C. Henning of Key West was his brother's best man. Ushers were Russell Britton and Herbert Figueroa both of Key West and George Whidden of Miami.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Seiler wore an American Beauty sheath with black accessories. Mrs. Henning mother of the groom wore a blue lace over taffeta dress with blue accessories. Both wore white carnation corsages. Mrs. Ross Winnie, grandmother of the bride was attired in a blue silk print dress with black hat shoes and bag and her corsage was of white carnations.

The reception followed immediately after the ceremony at the Civic Center. Assisting were Mrs. Eddie Jones cutting cake; Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Liversman and Gail Parker, coffee; Mrs. Carlotta O'Brian and Mrs. Sally Watson, serving punch. Mrs. Maria Busbee kept the bride's book.

The brides table was covered with a white taffeta cloth with net over skirt, trimmed with red satin ribbon. A beautiful epergne arrangement of red, pink and miniature carnations and holly and a five branched silver candelabra formed the centerpiece. Silver coffee service was at one end of the table and a four-tiered square wedding cake topped with miniature bride and groom at the other.

er end. The punch was served on a table with cloth taffeta, floor length gown, like the bride's table, the punch bowl encircled with holly. Palms formed a back ground for the tables.

Out of town guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Bailey, Clewiston; Mrs. Toile Henning, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Drayman, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Lines, Miss Vicki Saylor, Margate Fla.; Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Shaw, Logansport, Indiana; Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Winne and Miss Jan Sheffield, West Palm Beach; James Winne, Orlando; Mr. and Mrs. Sanford Abowd, Immokalee; Mr. and Mrs. Douglas DeVos, Lake Worth James M. Lamar, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gates Mrs. Fred C. Henning and Terry, Key West.

For traveling the bride wore a medium blue English tweed outfit with black accessories. Following a honeymoon trip to North Florida, the couple will be at home after Dec. 12 in Key West.

Dr. Elmer G. Close

A man who played a key role in the establishment of many early Sunflavor Seal of Quality policies draws this month's "Sunflavor Salute."

He is Dr. Elmer G. Close, presently a marketing specialist in horticulture with the Agricultural Extension Service of Auburn University.

AS CHAIRMAN of the first Sunflavor Advisory Committee for two years, it was Dr. Close who helped in the development of many of the Sunflavor rules, grades and standards now in effect.

Dr. Close came to the Division of Marketing four years ago to help in the important task of developing Sunflavor requirements for Florida farm products necessary to make the program successful.

"He was the deep thinker, the anchor man, who through his painstaking research added greatly to the Sunflavor program," said J. B. Owens, director, Division of Marketing.

"Many of the Sunflavor requirements he developed and recommended to the Advisory Committee were generally accepted and approved by them."

The Sunflavor Law, passed by the Florida Senate during the 1963 session, was the result of many months of research by Dr. Close.

An economist in the research field,

Dr. Close not only worked in the Sunflavor program but conducted many investigations and headed numerous research projects designed to help Florida farmers market their products.

"We're sorry to lose such a valuable member of our department, but we wish him the best in his new career," Commissioner of Agriculture Doyle Conner said in accepting Close's resignation on October 1.

A native of the Lake Okechobee area of Florida, Dr. Close received his bachelors, masters and doctors degrees at the University of Florida's college of agriculture.

He, his wife and five children will reside in Fort Payne, Alabama.

Dr. Close is a brother of Herman Close, Principal of the Belle Glade Junior High.

Vandergrift-Williams and W. H. Vann of Pahokee are licensed sunflavor shippers for corn; Sam Senter is licensed for sweet corn, and celery, as is Pioneer Growers. Lake Shore Growers Coop. is licensed for leafy vegetables in addition to corn and celery.

The sunflavor program is part of a growing campaign to spread the message of the sunflavor Seal of Quality.

INTERNATIONAL MARKETEER

Commissioner Doyle Conner says:

Many nations, particularly in Western Europe, are riding a wave of great prosperity, their economies are demanding more of the "good things of life" and no other country is as well equipped to supply these "good things" food as well as hard goods—as the United States is.

Interest has grown among Florida producers to the point that our state agency now feels justified in creating a position for a full-time specialist in international marketing.

So far as I have been able to determine, no other state has such a position. Just within the past three weeks, we filled it with Roberto Parajon, a native of Cuba who has considerable experience in establishing export trade for private firms.

FEEDER CALVES

Florida cattlemen exported more than 140,000 head of feeder calves for fattening out-of-state during 64-65.

It has been a practice for many years among some of our cattle producers to market lightweight feeder calves, overlooking an increasing demand among feeder buyers for heavier calves which would increase their returns.

Even as buyers are developing a greater appreciation for Florida feeder calves, many of our cattlemen continue to assume it is to their best advantage to market them while they are still as light as 250 lbs. When surveys clearly show that feeder buyers are most competitive in their quest for feeders in the 600 to 700-pound range.

2 1/4 LBS. GAIN PER DAY

In September, 1964, representatives of Master Mix Feed Research, Decatur, Indiana, purchased 107 head of good and standard grade Angus and Brangus cattle at the Polk County Graded Feeder Calf sale in Lakeland.

At the time of the sale the calves averaged 360 pounds and, when they were placed on experimental feeds, they weighed 412 lb. on the average.

Half the cattle were fed high-grain rations and the other half, silage and grain rations. Angus and Brangus were proportionately distributed between the two groups.

They were fed for 240 days. Final weights averaged more than 940 pounds—or about 2 1/4 pounds weight gain per day each.

While the animals were roughly half good and half standard grade calves when they were auctioned, these were their slaughter grades: Five prime, 66 choice, 34 good, 2 standard.

The animals dressed out at an excellent 62 percent of their carcass weight.

Record Slaughter For Beef

Cattle slaughter under federal inspection for the week ended November 6, 1964, was equal to the all-time record high set during the week ended September 18, reports the Consumer and Marketing Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This also was the eighth consecutive week total slaughter has reached 550,000 head.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

"Increasingly in the years ahead, the greatest premium will be placed on those individuals who can demonstrate (the) priceless quality of flexibility. The old virtues of personal integrity, hard work, loyalty and dedication to the principles of our society are, and will remain, of central importance. Within these terms, the ability to deal pragmatically with the emerging problems of a changing world is the key to our new future. Only the adaptable person holds the key that can unlock the potential progress that this new, changing future holds for all of us."

Robert E. Williams
Executive Vice President
The Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company

"Our ancestors came to these shores because they chose opportunity over security, because they were willing to dare, because they had a burning desire to scale the heights, because they were personally involved, and held dear the principles of individuality, initiative and freedom. The time has now come for all of us to make the choice again, the choice made time and again by our forefathers, the choice of self-reliance or self-destruction. The time has come for all of us in our land to rededicate ourselves to the American dream, to our great American heritage of accepting challenge and embarking on adventure." Life & Casualty Insurance Co. Gulfport Dudley, Jr. President Life & Casualty Insurance Co.

Billy Weeks (with gun) and Hub Spooner are rigged for the Big Cypress, with a helmet for the dogs, a rack for the guns, space for other gear and supplies, including refrigeration for "cokes" and complementary refreshments.

THE BRONCO is off the assembly lines of Ford's planned yearly production of 40,000 units. Mr. Watson of Watson Ford, Belle Glade dealers, is proud of this custom job for ubiquitous hunters.

Leslie McMillan is trying the driver's seat for size.

"We Can Do Much More"—Conner

Commissioner Conner says, "One of the marvels of Florida agriculture is that, despite its importance on the national scene, the Sunshine State has barely scratched the surface in living up to its productive potential."

"I thought W. K. McPherson, agricultural economist with the Florida Agricultural Experiment Stations, came up with some interesting figures on this subject a few days ago."

"He said only 12 percent of this state's potential of cropland is being used for crops. This compares, he said, to 81 percent of Iowa's potential being exploited, 78 percent of Illinois', 60 percent of California's, 37 percent of Mississippi's, 33 percent of North Carolina and 31 percent of Georgia's and Alabama's."

"While some other states are approaching their maximum physical production potential, Florida has scarcely to expand. "On top of that, most of the other states can produce only a few months of the year, while so many Florida commodities can be planted and harvested on a year-round basis, with more than one crop produced out of the same ground."

"We're doing so much already to supply the nation's dinner tables during the winter season and, as the need arises, we can do much, much more."

Farm Front

At periodic intervals, publically appears on the national scene which compares the increase in the number of workers on the payrolls of the U. S. Department of Agriculture with the proportionate decrease in the number of workers on American farms.

Although this story makes for interesting surface reading and casual chatter, it overlooks a significant fact which U. S. Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has had highlighted in the new USDA Yearbook of Agriculture.

It is the fact that two out of every three dollars spent by USDA helps non-farmers more than farmers.

The new "Consumers All" Yearbook points out that USDA interests and activities reach far beyond farming and into the homes of practically every American. Highlighted are the various consumer services provided by the agency, including its activities in such fields as money management; medical care; nutrition, recreation; buying food, clothing and housing; planning home furnishings; heating; wiring; and many others.

It is a fact that farmers are requiring a smaller amount of USDA's time even though agricultural production is at an all-time high. Similarly, many of the functions of the Florida Department of Agriculture are designed for the primary benefit of the consumer—of any to assure an orderly flow of high-quality pure foods to his dinner table. Florida inspectors protect the public as well as the farmer by inspecting meats, fruits, vegetables, milk, egg frozen desserts, and many other food products. In addition feeds, fertilizers, and brake fluids are regulated by the Department, as well as the accuracy of scales and other measures used in the dispensing of consumer goods. The use of pesticides is regulated by the Department to protect the public from possible harm from toxic residues.

So any attempt to charge the farmer with the total expense of departments of agriculture, whether state or federal, would be erroneous. Services provided at both levels benefit the average citizen to an increasing degree more than they do the farmers. In fact, a substantial portion of the operating budget of the Florida Department of Agriculture is paid for by farmers through various inspection fees.

Dec. 9, 1965 THE HERALD

Agribusiness in Florida accounts for employment of about 40 percent of the state's work force.

For the first six months of 1965, Florida had the highest ratio of hired farm labor (2.2 hired workers for each family worker) of any state in the nation.

Former Belle Glade Woman Receives Nat'l Honor

GLENDIA DELL COPP

Chosen as one of four outstanding women in Anchorage, Alaska to be listed in the 1966 Outstanding Young Women of America, is one of Belle Glade's own native born girls, Mrs. Robert Copp, the former Glenda Dell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Dell of Belle Glade.

Glenda was selected for this honor based on her achievements, contribution to her family, Community, state and nation.

Glenda was nominated to the outstanding "Young Women of America" organization by the Ft. Richardson

Officers' Wives Club. "I think it is quite an honor, but it's really a surprise because there are so many that are qualified" she remarked on receiving the letter that she had been nominated. Glenda and her husband Lt. Bob Copp reside at Ft. Richardson with their one year old son. They have lived in Alaska two and one half years.

During her high school days in Belle Glade, Glenda was an honor student and outstanding musician. She taught piano and her students benefited greatly under her instruction. After graduating with honors she went on to University of Miami where she received her master's degree in Music in 1952. While attending she was a member of the student Mensa Society, Nu Kappa Tau and Wesley Foundation.

The Capps met at the university of Miami in a singing class, both were members of a glee club called "The Singing Hurricanes" that toured Europe in the summer of 1951. They were married after graduation.

Glenda has continued her musical activities since coming to Alaska, sings with the Anchorage Community Chorus and directs the all Protestant choir of Chapel No. 1 at Ft. Richardson. She and her husband are members of the Malesmutes, a local folk singing group. Along with her other major projects is the direction of both the children and adult choirs. Glenda also takes private piano students.

Chosen Club Will Not Meet

The Chosen Garden Club has disposed with the December meeting which was to be on Dec. 21, in respect to Mrs. Walter Roth, who passed away last Wednesday. Mrs. Roth was past president of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Jones spent the weekend in Miami as guests of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Howington. Their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ma-

Two ways your face can grow in the next year!

Usually, our faces show what is happening to us. For instance, suppose the financial angle of the Christmas season is on your mind. Suppose you know there's no cash to welcome Santa this year.

Your face will show it.

But suppose that you have enrolled in our Christmas Club, and have made your payments regularly. Each week saving a small sum and watching your savings grow.

Suppose, shortly before Christmas you receive a check for your savings during the year.

Naturally, your face will show that, too.

Make sure your face is smiling next Christmas. You can do so by joining our Christmas Club today.

'39 Day Care Center Averaged 39 Customers Daily

PAUL, better known as "Lucky" to the staff, because of his never ending trail of puddles, was our first child.—Paul was soon a star in his table manners, and though he could not sing grace, he always folded his hands and bowed his head as soon as he was seated. He stayed with us throughout the season, going home only occasionally for the weekend.

NOTE: This is the first of two articles on the early history of nursery and child care in Belle Glade. It was written from the material found in two scrapbooks which have been preserved in the Belle Glade City Library since 1940. The scrapbooks are entitled "Report of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc." Information from the scrapbooks has been confirmed by interviews with people who initiated and worked in this pioneer project. This is a tribute to the citizens of Belle Glade who cared enough about deprived children to become personally involved.

The year 1939 in the small agricultural community of Belle Glade marked an important event in the history of child care for the young children of agricultural workers in this area. In that year the first nursery, established and sponsored by the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc., first opened its doors in the American Legion Hall for twenty-four hour care of the infants and children of the packing-house workers. The late Arthur Wells, Mayor of Belle Glade at that time, Marie Bregger, and Luther Jones were president, vice-president, and secretary respectively of the Belle Glade Community Center, Inc. This non-profit organization was formed for the sole purpose of establishing and maintaining the child care center. Its membership was made up of all civic clubs, all churches, all packing houses, business houses, and many individuals in Belle Glade.

The Glades area was rapidly becoming one of the most important winter vegetable producing centers in our country by the year 1939. Increasing numbers of agricultural migrants were flocking in to work in the packing houses during the season. Thoughtful people in Belle Glade had become concerned and alarmed over the indifferent care that the babies and young children of the agricultural migrants received. Many of the children and babies were left in locked cars while parents were at work. Young children were often left to care for themselves.

Mrs. Edith E. Lowrey, executive secretary of the Council of Women for Home Missions, had visited Belle Glade to find a local nursery center that would compare with others in fourteen states to care for migrant children. The Belle Glade organization was formed as a result of this challenge and working cooperatively with the Council of Women for Home Missions, established the local center and ran it twenty-four hours a day from March 15 to May 20, 1939. Fifty children were enrolled with an average attendance of thirty. Most of the children stayed all night and received twenty-four hour care seven days a week for this period.

Ralph Freeman, a Belle Glade citizen who lived here until recently, was project manager. Miss Alicia Fisher, a kindergarten primary teacher, was sent by the Home Missions to be head of the project. Miss Fisher was assisted by a staff composed of Barbara Blakely, a registered nurse, Mabel Rashley and Doris Read, nursery assistants, Maude Royals, cook, and Mary Luther, cleaning girl. The staff members worked seven days a week with only one day off every two weeks. It was a heavy schedule but they did it. Volunteer service to the nursery by the people of Belle Glade was monumental. Assuring the health and well-being of the children, the late benefactor of Belle Glade, Dr. William Buck, examined the children on admittance and visited them every day. County health officials also assisted.

The late Mrs. Mary J. White, volunteer assistant who at that time was 76 years old, appeared on opening day and offered her services. She helped prepare and serve noon day and evening meals, and she would not leave at night until the dishes were done. She gave of her services because she firmly believed in the nursery, and she had a sincere desire to serve others.

It would have been impossible to open the nursery without the services, money, and equipment donated by local organizations and individuals. The packing houses sent fresh vegetables as well as a monthly check. Civic organizations and business houses helped financially and furnished supplies and equipment as did many interested individuals. Women's Missionary Societies in Florida and elsewhere soon began to make contributions.

The children were given three good meals a day. Vegetables were received not only from the packing houses, but milk was given by local dairies and the prevalent status of bread was donated by bakeries, meat by local markets, and fruits and vegetables by individuals. W. P. A. food surplus commodities were secured. The nursery staff took great pride in improving the health of the children and with the help of their nurse and local doctors, the good food, and tender loving care, the children were soon glowing with health and well-being.

The story is related of six month old baby Carl. When he was brought to the nursery he had the cry of a six week baby, an expressionless face, and no strength to kick and react as a baby of his age should. His mother had been feeding him a formula of one ounce of milk to seven ounces of water. He was given the appropriate diet for a baby of his age and within a few weeks he was reacting vigorously and attempting to sit up.

A kindergarten program was given to the older children during each day while a program of supervised play and activities was given to the younger children. The parents of the children were very grateful for the excellent care that their children were receiving.

A steady stream of visitors, both local and out of town, came to visit the nursery and left greatly impressed and convinced. A doubt that the people of Belle Glade were effectively meeting a great need. Every business place beyond the display of orange posters which announced, "We support the Belle Glade Community Center." The American Legion had to forego most of their usual activities as well as the use of their building to other groups which routinely met there. This group had originally intended to make the building available as a nursery for only this one year.

NEXT WEEK—The nursery is continued in the Legion Hall and America's First Lady, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, comes to visit.

Resources Board Rejuvenated

As guests of Vice Pres. Claude Shirley and with a review of past performances of the Palm Beach County Resources Development Board by Past President Emmett Roberts, some forty Glades citizens enjoyed lunch and discussed the rejuvenation of activity by the Glades in the work of the Board, Thursday noon at the Holiday Inn.

Les Farrar, the new Executive Director of the Board, recently to replace Art Kell who succumbed to a long illness, assured the audience of the desire of the Board to have the Glades again active and of its desire to cooperate with the Glades in whatever projects it may select.

It was explained to the group that each of the 26 municipalities of the County is equally represented on the Board — of Directors thereby giving the smallest municipality the same voice as West Palm Beach and other larger cities on the coast.

The four-laning of State Road No. 80 from South Bay to West Palm Beach was brought up as a project deserving countywide support, and particularly RDB.

The division of the county into different districts both for County Commissioners and School Board Members representation was also urged as a county-wide project of peculiar interest to the Glades area.

County Commissioner Weaver was present and made known his previously expressed opinion on the

FAMILY POT LUCK

Vegetable Varieties Baked acorn squash is a treat by itself but even more so when the cavities are filled with baby lima beans cooked and seasoned with tiny sausage balls or bacon curls.

Broccoli takes well to cheese sauce which is easily made from canned cheese soup thinned to desired consistency. Finish cooking, if desired with a buttered bread crumb topping in the oven. Ever added a bit of grated horseradish to beets? It's tangy. Baked beans are always a favorite. Dress up the canned variety with some cooked or canned tomatoes, molasses, mustard and curry powder for a more spicy meal.

Chopped, cooked spinach takes well to a small amount of cream sauce and a dash of nutmeg. If you don't want to cream it, add some browned butter and flour to it, nutmeg and a beaten egg mixed in it with a fork, while heating.

These big tomatoes fry nicely when coated with bread crumbs. Serve atop slices of panfried eggplant, topped with a mushroom, also sauted.

MRS. ROBERT DALE MILLER

Tabit-Miller Vows Repeated In Miami

Beverly Jane Tabit and Robert Dale Miller were married on Saturday, November 27 in the Church of the Epiphany, South Miami. The altar was decorated with white pom poms and palms.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. John A. Tabit, 10325 S. W. 89th Ave., and the late Mr. Tabit. She attended school in Belle Glade, Rosarian Academy, West Palm Beach and graduated from the Academy of the Assumption.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Richard B. Miller and the late Mr. Miller. He is now serving in the U. S. Navy and returned in July from Viet Nam, he was aboard the U. S. Hancock.

The kneeling benches covered in white satin, were flanked by baskets of pom poms and the pews were decorated with satin bows, centered with lily of the valley.

Mrs. Lewis Hecker, organist played "Ave Marie" and "On This Day". The bride was given in marriage by a friend of the family, Doctor Roger Fain of Lake Worth.

The bride wore an empire style gown with seed pearls, with veil of tulle and a seeded pearl crown. The chapel train was encircled with a wide band of lace. She carried a white prayer book centered with a white orchid surrounded by orange blossoms.

Richard Miller served as his brother's best man. Ushers were the bride's brother, Peter Tabit and cousin, Jack Herring.

The bride's mother wore a pink crepe dress with matching accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a two piece gold and olive suit with matching accessories, both mother's wore orchid corsages.

The reception was held at the home of the bride. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth from Italy, at each end of the table were silver candelabras and white doves holding ribbons from the wedding cake. The bride wore for traveling a light green dress with white pom poms and accessories.

After a honeymoon, the couple will live in Key West.

The out of town guests were Doctor and Mrs. Fain, Miss Julie Fain and Roger Fain, Jr., of Lake Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Pearce and Clifford, of Okeechobee, Mrs. E. A. McCabe, Mrs. O. G. McWhorter and Mrs. Benjamin Weeks of Belle Glade, Mr. Frank McLoughlin of New York, Judge and Mrs. James Walden and Mr. and Mrs. William Brook of Dania, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis McCollister of Fort Lauderdale.

One Protestant denomination has made some eye-brows raised within its ranks when it revamped its Church School literature, a few years back. Not only were format and emphasis varied, but in the cycle of the switch from old to new the first material to appear were for adults, working down over a period of time to the level of the nursery school.

The reasoning behind this approach holds good in all parts of education. Unless you have reached the adult in a family, the job of reaching the child is monumental.

The parent who depends on the schools to develop an interest in reading in his child, while never setting the example of buying a book, is fooling himself. If he depends on the school to instill culture, knowledge, and community awareness in his offspring, without himself setting an example through visits to the municipal library, he continues to fool himself.

A child more a product of his home environment than we dare admit.

There must be reasons. Sure!

Name ten. OK:

1. All these comforts are available: steering wheels that tilt or flip and telescope; AM/FM Multiplex Stereo radio, first ever offered in cars; and Shro-bucket seats (to give you a sampling).
2. Comfortair automatic heating and cooling you can order—just dial the temperature and turn it on. Comfortair automatically keeps you comfortable no matter what the weather outside.
3. More engine choices—the widest horsepower range available: the 425-hp Turbo-Jet V8 in Chevrolet and Corvette to a 90-hp Four in Chevy II.
4. Body by Fisher—Craftsmanship by the world's best known coachmakers with everything from luxurious interiors to the long luster Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer finish.
5. Self-cleaning rocker panels flush out salt and other corrosives with rainwater, dry themselves with outside air—another way Chevrolet takes extra care so you needn't bother.
6. A hushed and gentled ride with body mounts designed to isolate vibration better and shock absorbers matched to body style—coupe, sedan, convertible, wagon.
7. America's only rear-engine car, Corvair, with more weight over the driving wheels where you need it and less in the steering wheels where you don't.
8. America's only true sports car, Corvette, with fully independent suspension, four-wheel disc brakes and engines you can order up to 427 cubic inches.
9. Higher resale value—Chevrolets traditionally are worth more at trade-in time because more people want Chevrolets... new or used.
10. All these safety features standard now: seat belts, front and rear padded dash and shock absorbers, matched to body style—coupe, sedan, convertible, wagon.

Americans - Wake Up!

We believe even Hitler referred to himself "and God" concerning what persons might or might not do. Our Supreme Court, thru its decisions, leaves God out and, in effect, bans reference to Him in public meetings.

It is reported by Jack Kofod that, "an 18-year old high school girl, leading a group, clammed up whenever the Diet's name appeared — scary school officials afraid of offending the Supreme Court agreed the young lady's legal rights might be infringed."

The Supreme Court declares that it is illegal to require communists to register with the government.

The Supreme Court has agreed to rule on the provision which requires union officers to take an oath disclaiming membership in the communist party.

Our President insists that the Congress will be asked again when it convenes on January 10th to repeal 14-B and allow labor Unions to take over the country without interference from any state and with whatever communists it might have as members and holders of office.

The Supreme Court has said its legal for communists to take over the Labor Unions; the President insists that the country be turned over to the Labor unions.

The Supreme Court historically has sided AGAINST God and WITH the Communists.

Americans are dying in Viet Nam fighting the Communists; labor unions are delaying manufacture and delivery of war materials through strikes, beatniks are tearing up registration cards and dogooders are lending "and and comfort" to the enemy, under police protection.

We are sure GOD has His hand in all this for some reason despite the Supreme Court; it is to wake me and you up??

"I Just Can't Understand It!"

It is generally accepted now that the one-sided vote against the $300 million road bond issue in Palm Beach County was the work of the Republicans — principally because the proposition was Democratic in parentage and in overwhelming support in the Legislature.

Democrats can blame themselves, for they stayed away from the polls in droves, and were caught napping — most students came up with a, "can't understand" attitude when the votes were counted.

Republicans in the county are known to have covertly opposed the proposition while leaving their democratic constituents with a different idea.

Now, republicans on the County Commission propose to realign the districts of supervisors as well as for school board members.

Courts of Florida have ruled that such is not necessary — the words REASONABLY and PRACTICALLY are modifying influence with the law.

The piece of legislation affecting Palm Beach County is under suspicion as a piece of political footwork within the democratic corps of officials.

We commend Commissioner Bud Weaver for his open spirit and honesty, as either county commission or school board division will leave the Glades farther in left field so far as being a part of the county is concerned.

If all Glades citizens will make it a policy to educate any West Palm Beach citizen with whom they have contact on the Glades — its economic contribution to the county, its potential and its dependence on a "fair shake" from the east coast communities, then we will be working in the right direction.

The Sad Plight Of The School Dropout

President Johnson's Youth Opportunity campaign, aimed at keeping young people in school, is being intensified. On August 21, the President called for national support to get young Americans to return to school. He asked employers, union, civic, trade and religious associations, and state and local governments to "exert every influence that they command to bring to our young people facts on the importance of education" The response has been gratifying.

Emphasis is now needed in the next few months, which are crucial in the lives of many students. It is this period when borderline students begin to feel the academic pressures and think of leaving school. Many also feel increasing financial pressure at this time and leave school to try to get a job. This is the biggest mistake they can make.

The facts are:

—Lifetime earnings:
—A college graduate earns nearly two-thirds more than a high school graduate.

—The High school graduate earns over three-fourths more than a person who did not finish eight years of school.

—There is a strong correlation between low income families and the tendency to drop out of school. Last October, 553,000 school dropouts were residing with families with incomes of less than $3,000 a year. Forty percent of all dropouts were in families with incomes below this level.

—Employment and unemployment:

—In August 1965, the unemployment rate for young people was 9.7 percent, more than two times that for all workers in the labor force.

—The unemployment rate for school dropouts, age

16 to 21, is 16.6 percent, almost four times the national average.

—The unemployment rate for everyone 18 years and over who do not finish high school is 6.6 percent—as compared to 3.4 percent for high school graduates.

—Unemployment rates of graduates and dropouts 16 to 24, in October of 1964, were these:

	Graduates	Dropouts
Both sexes	8.2	13.6
Male	6.8	11.2
Female	9.5	18.9
White	7.3	12.8
Nonwhite	16.1	16.3

—The scope of the dropout problem:

—In October of 1964, 14.1 million young people, 16 to 24, were out of school. Some 5.1 million, or 36 percent of them were school dropouts.

—During this school year, more than 750,000 boys and girls will drop out of school without having attained a high school diploma unless something effective is done about it.

—Six of ten of the Nation's school dropouts are in the 16 to 17 year-old age bracket.

—If the problem of school dropouts continued at its present pace, we could anticipate having 32 million adult, nonhigh school graduates in the labor force by 1975.

There is nothing more beautiful than a rainbow, but it takes both rain and sunshine to make a rainbow. If life is to be rounded and many-colored, like a rainbow, both joy and sorrow must come to it. Those who have never known anything but prosperity and pleasure, become hard and shallow, but those whose prosperity has been mingled with adversity, become kind and gracious.

Uncle Dan From Doolie Says:

DEAR MISTER EDITOR:

The fellers at the country store Saturday night was thrown into a state of panic when Zeke Grubb came in and announced he was junking his 1930 pickup truck and gitting himself a new 1966 model.

Ed Doolittle allowed as how Zeke was a good example of how come pore folks stays pore, always gitting in back to the banker to git somepore new ever time it come out. Furthermore, Ed was of the opinion Zeke was just trying to git more status in the community and didn't need no new truck at this time.

Clem Webster of the Great Society was defending Zeke, said it was folks buying things they didn't need that was keeping 'is economy of the country at a high level. He remonstrated how President Johnson had took some tax off'n automobiles and advised the people to spend this savings immediate so's to keep the money flow going steady.

Josh Clodhopper was agreed with Clem, said if a feller wanted to keep his status he had to git a new car and a new wife about ever two year. And Josh claimed, if a feller couldn't afford both, it was better to git the car on account of the new safety gadgets they was putting on 'em. They wasn't much safety in a new wife, allowed Josh, but they got cars nowadays that'll tell you how much air you got in your tires and if the law was behind him.

But Ed, incidental, that has started blaming his room-mate and pore eye sight on the Democrats, wouldn't give up. He said Lady Bird was trying to git rid of all the junkyards and here was Zeke messing up the scenery with junking his old truck. Ed claimed that, actual, what they was doing was paying folks to git 'em back off the highway and the Government was paying for trees and bushes to set out along the road so's people couldn't see 'em. And he claimed the tax Lyndon took off'n cars didn't amount to nothing on account of taxes in the Great Society was like mole-holes. When one gits stomped down in the front yard two more pop-up in the back yard.

Personal, Mister Editor, I would have to vote for Zeke gitting his new truck. The national economy is now geared to the merry-go-round system and we got to keep it going round and round to keep the roof from falling down.

I was reading in the papers last week where the Republicans had made a survey and found where a $10,000 life insurance policy was losing about $50 worth of buying power ever month. But if the Democrats would make the same survey they would come up with a different set of figures. They would show we was going to live a heap longer in the Great Society and didn't need no insurance. A feller just pays his taxes, Mister Editor, and hopes for the best.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Refugiados Cubanos Que Llegaron A Belle Glade

La Familia Infesta

Entre los Refugiados Cubanos en el último viaje por mar, en Noviembre 22 ppdo, llegó la familia de Rosario y Gerardo Infesta, con sus hijos: María del Carmen de 12 años, Gerardo de 10 años, y Sandra de 1 año de edad.

Vinieron a Belle Glade, a pasar el día de Thanksgiving en casa de sus hermanos Teresa y Gilberto Alvarez, donde tuvieron una linda reunión familiar con todos sus primos: Josefa, Carlos, Julia y Jorge Ponce, María Elena y Gilberto Alvarez Jr., Roberto Alvarez y Eva Kruse.

En el mismo barco, procedentes de Cuba, vinieron con ellos sus suegros Lydia Estevez y Gerardo Infesta, además de Elina Alvarez y Ricardo Estevez, Caridad Rodríguez e Idely Estevez, Rodolfo y Raelo Estevez, Ricardo Estevez de Armas y Julia García, quienes se hallan en Miami.

Noticias

De Belle Glade

El sábado proximo, Diciembre 11, es el aniversario de bodas de Arcadio y Raquel Camman, cumpliendo 18 años de casados. Son vecinos muy estimados por todos en nuestra Colonia Latina de Belle Glade, como tambien entre los oriundos de la Provincia de Camaguey, Cuba.

Muchas felicidades.

En estas Navidades, visita Belle Glades el conocido ginecólogo del Centro Médico Quirúrgico de la Habana, Dr. Hector Roca-mora, que vendrá acompañado de su esposa Ana, a pasarse unos días de vacaciones junto a sus hijos Anita y Calixto García Velez, y sus nietos.

Que tengan muy grata estancia.

A su llegada a Belle Glade procedentes de Cuba, los esposos María de las Nieves Acosta y Felix Zubizarreta se reunieron con sus hijos Ramon y Rafael Zubizarreta, cambiando su residencia para Harlingen, Texas.

Muchas felicidades les deseamos.

Tristes Nuevas

Una misa de requiem se dio el lunes de la semana pasada, en la Iglesia Little Flower de Miami, por el alma del Dr. Jose Carlos Millas, internamente conocido experto en cicones, quien murió el domingo anterior, a los 76 años de edad. El Dr. Millas era director desde 1921 a 1961 del Observatorio Nacional de la Habana.

Vino en 1961 a Miami como asociado al Instituto de Ciencias en estudios meteorológicos de radar, de la Universidad de Miami. El Dr. y la Sra. Millas residían en Coral Gables.

Lo sobreviven su esposa Isola, su hijo Rolando, y un nieto. Y fue inhumado el lunes en el Woodlawn Memorial Park.

Rogamos por su alma.

Como a 19 millas este del Atlantic Sugar Mill, en accidente automovilístico, murió ahogado en el canal de Belle Glade, el joven Cubano Humberto Linara, de 27 años de edad, vecino de Miami, cuando manejaba un camión cargado de bagazo de caña. Fue tendido en la Funderaria Rivero, en Miami.

Lo sobreviven su esposa Gloria Linara, y un hijo de seis meses de nacido.

Entretenimientos Esta Semana

El Glee Club de alumnos del Coro del Belle Glade High School, ofrece esta noche a las ocho de la noche en el school gymnasium, un Concierto Pascual.

El dueño del Fronton de Jai-Alai en West Palm Beach, es el político Cubano Carlos M. Ferretti, de 66 años de edad, quien vino a radicarse en los Estados Unidos hace doce años.

"Tenemos el mas bello fronton de jai-alai del mundo", dice Ferretti. Con sus 36 jugadores manejando con habilidad la cesta.

Manana, 10 de Diciembre, comenzara la Florida Atlantic University de Miami, una serie de conciertos en el auditorium, con el internacionalmente aclamado pianista Claudio Arrau.

La Universidad vende los tickets a costo nominal, o sea mas bajo que el costo comercial. Se estan vendiendo en la Biblioteca de la Universidad, a 50c para los estudiantes. Los demas pueden conseguir sus tickets para el Concierto de Arrau a $3.25.

Para los amantes de la agricultura, nos es grato anunciarles que muchas personas estan tomando el omnibus de los "Tours" con guías, que salen del Holiday Inn, visitando las siembras

Louis Webre's Birthday Party

El día 27 de Noviembre cumplió 8 años el pequeño Louis Webre, hijo de Juanita y Alfred Webre, de Belle Glade. En esa fecha tuvo una simpática reunión con amigos de su misma edad, que la acompañaron a soplar un delicioso cake, que llevaba su nombre.

Asistieron sus hermanitos de 3 años, Charles de 2½ años, y Janey de 1 año; y sus amigos: Jorge Luis y Carlos Cano, Carlos Cano, Carlos Latorre, Jose Castro, Juan y Mike Cervera, Jorge Sanchez, Rafael y Jacinto Agramonte, Eduardo Recio, Eduardo Gomez, Sidney Castleman, Vicky Kent, Lisa Bailey, Debbie Falkin, Teresa Gomez, Marcia Gotta, Teresia Gomez, María Eugenia Sanchez, Luisa Equizabel, Loly Castro y Serafina Larrondo.

En un arbol del patio habia colgada una pinata de vino, y gozaron de un Treasure Hunt que gano Lisa Bailey, una carrera de potato que gano Maria Eugenia Sanchez, y la carrera de varones que gano Mike Cervera.

Notas Internacionales

La Princesa Michiko, de Tokyo, ingreso la semana pasada en el hospital, dando a luz un varon, para alegría del Principe Akihito su esposo, y su hijo el Principe Hiro, de 5 años de edad.

En Londres, la Reina Madre Isabel asistió al estreno de la obra musical "Hello Dolly", interpretada por Mary Martin, y al final de la función la reina fue de las de los telones para saludar a la actriz Miss Martin, y otros miembros del show.

Las entradas del estreno de esta obra era para levantar fondos para obras caritativas teatrales, y para el Jerusalem Baby Home.

Compromisos

Sonia y Hector Fajardo, de Coral Gables, tienen el gusto de anunciar el compromiso de su hija Tessie, con Brian Bibeau, hijo de Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bibeau, de Clearwater.

Los planes de su boda son para el mes de Junio proximo.

El Sr. Ranulfo Sierra y Sra., de Miami, anuncian el compromiso de su hija Susana Maria con Telles D. Penley, hijo de Mr. and Mrs. Oscar T. Penley, residentes de Morgantown, N. C.

Planean su boda para el 4 de Junio 1966.

Despedida De Soltera

Otelia Sanchez

En su linda residencia del Northeast, la Sra. Lydia Vaelella, y varias amigas le dieron una despedida de soltera a Otelia Sanchez por su proxima boda con Joseph J. Hayes, en Diciembre 22. La despedida fue organizada por su amiga Yolanda Toledo.

Las invitadas a la despedida fueron: Cary Alvarez, Gianna Cecilia, Margarita Equizabel, Clotilde Equizabel, Miriam y Lillian Rodriguez Liort, Dorita Cartaya, y la mamá de la novia, Sra. Otelia Sanchez.

Tuvieron un bello cake adornado en rosa y blanco, con vasitos haciendo juego. Y le ofrecieron varios regalos.

Tambien el lunes 29 de Noviembre, tuvo Otelia otra despedida de soltera, en casa de Mrs. MacAllister, o ganizada por Aline MacAllister, Linda Ward, Geneva Whitehurst, Sharon Colby, Marta Sanchez y Hazel Litchfield.

Muchas felicidades le deseamos a tan linda novia.

Social Security — How It Affects You

(Editor's Note: This is the 4th in a series of columns by R. C. Gehrken, Jr., social Security district manager in West Palm Beach, telling what the social security amendments of 1965 mean to you and your family.)

By: R. C. Gehrken, Jr.
District Manager

Several extensions of coverage for social security purposes were included in this year's amendments. Among these groups affected by these extensions are doctors of medicine and people who receive tips as part of their pay. Benefits are now payable to certain divorced wives and surviving divorced wives of deceased workers.

Physicians' self-employment income from the practice of medicine will be covered for social security purposes for the first time beginning with taxable years ending on or after December 31, 1965. In addition, coverage was extended to medical and dental interns employed by hospitals starting in 1966 on the same basis as other employees of the same employer. This means most interns will start paying social security taxes on their earnings, will earn social security credits, and they, their dependents and survivors will be eligible for monthly cash benefits as soon as they have earned sufficient credit and met other requirements in the law.

Cash tips received by an employee on his own behalf will be counted as wages for social security purposes starting in 1966. The law requires these employees to make a written report to their employers within 10 days after the end of a month in which the employee received $20 or more in cash tips. The employer will deduct the employee's share of the social security taxes due on the tips from the regular wages of the employee or from funds the employee may provide. If unpaid wages held by the employer are not enough to cover the social security deductions on his reported tips. The employer will report the worker's tips along with the worker's regular wages for social security.

Guess Who?

This young lady is a very active member of the Junior Class. She has attended Lake Shore High since seventh grade. She is vice-president of the Student Council and her hobbies are reading and music. She has always maintained a "B" average. What fifteen year old Junior do you think this is? Who doesn't know our Vice-President of the Student Council, little Barbara Finney?

On the Campus

People living near a school often judge it by the way the grounds are kept. Students have a responsibility to do their share in keeping the campus neat and attractive. These suggestions will help you to keep your campus neat and attractive.

1. Do your part to help in the campaign for improving the school grounds.
2. Pick up any papers or trash that you find anywhere around the school.
3. Stay on the walks or driveways. Don't cut across the grass or flower beds.
4. Park cars and bicycles in the spaces set aside for them.
5. Behave like a good school citizen. Acts of vandalism or intentional destruction of school property are "kid stuff."

When The School Has Visitors

The manners and attitude of each pupil are important in making the good impressions of your school that a visitor carries away with him. Will the visitors to your school say, "I have never seen such a rude, inconsiderate group," or will they say, "I have never seen such a good school on the part of each pupil and such fine cooperation among them?"

If you are a good school citizen, you will show not only loyalty and spirit to your own school but courtesy and good sportsmanship to guests if you follow these suggestions:

1. Stand when the flag of the United States is raised or during the flag salute. Stand silently for the flag raising. For the flag salute, stand with your right hand over your heart and repeat the Pledge of Allegiance with sincerity. When the flag passes by in a parade, boys and men should remove their hats; girls and women should stand with their hands at their sides.
2. Take a part in school cheers and songs at athletic events, but avoid being so loud that you attract attention to yourself. Loud yelling and boisterous conduct in public do not reflect credit on you or your school.
3. Be courteous to adults who are present as guests or chaperones at school affairs. Greet them when they arrive, see that they are comfortably seated, that they have a chance to share in the fun, and that they are offered refreshments. Boys may ask women chaperones to dance.

Faculty Presents Womanless Wedding Tonight

Bobcats Expect Undefeated Year

The spirit of basketball has once again crept upon the students of Lake Shore High. The mighty Bobcats are expecting to continue the year undefeated.

The Lake Shore Bobcats were given the best chance of dethroning the Maroon Devils of Roosevelt who ranked up the Southeast Atlantic Conference Crown last year with a 22-8 season.

The Bobcats have lost only three boys from last year's squad that compiled a 15-9 record. The Bobcats have two fine guards in Charles Haynes (8-3) and Charles Walker (8-2). Others who figure prominently in the Bobcat plans are Milton Edwards (5-9), Robert Davis (6-1), and Tommy Jones (6-4).

Seniors Take Air Force Test

On November 30, 1965, the Air Force Supervisory examination was administered to all seniors.

The test was designed to help determine what seniors qualify for the numerous highly technical fields.

The career call for knowledge in such areas as personal management and administration, mailroom operation and supply, military justice, management of non appropriated welfare friends, and counseling techniques.

Persons obtaining the required score will qualify to enter the Air Force where training and experience will provide one with a knowledge of many civilian occupations.

Portrait deposits are to be paid to the senior class sponsors prior to Wednesday morning.

Senior Portraits

Seniors are reminded that on Wednesday, December 15, 1965, senior portraits in caps and gowns will be taken. Portraits may be black and white, color, or oil.

Girls are reminded not to wear bangs and fellows are to remember to wear white shirts and ties.

Portrait deposits are to be paid to the senior class sponsors prior to Wednesday morning.

"Laugh Awhile"

A five-year-old lad in Minnesota was watching his mother change the baby. When she overlooked springing the toy's backside with talcum powder and hurried him into his diaper, the five-year-old reprieved her sharply, "Hey Mom, you got to salt him!"

A dear little old lady entered a suburban bungalow and found a lad of four in sole possession, playing with his toy train. "You don't know me," said the old lady "but I'm your grandmother-on your father's side." Without looking up from his train, the lad replied, "I'll tell you right now: you're on the wrong side."

THERE'S GONNA BE A WEDDING...
A WOMANLESS WEDDING!

"The Tattler Column"

Well, here I am again with some exciting news that will burn everyone's ears.

D. P. I. is it true that M. A. I. has an eye for a certain young graduate?

J. S. I. heard that A. L. A. says that she is going to put you down because you're doing her wrong. Is it true?

M. J. why did you give C. M. the silent treatment Sunday night?

Could it be because he is trying to tip out with R. B. B.?

J. W. what happened at the party Sunday night? You know M. L. H. didn't like that.

L. M. C. is it true that the career call for knowledge in such areas as personal management and administration, mailroom operation and supply, military justice, management of non appropriated welfare friends, and counseling techniques.

E. E. I see you're smiling a lot these days. Is it because your Army friend is coming back to town?

D. M. now is the time for you to get J. S. if you really want him.

P. M. why aren't you going to the Classic with A. D. T. Could it be that you're afraid?

R. P. H. when will Cupid strike your heart?

M. E. F. I see that you had a wonderful time at the party Sunday night. Could it be that E. D. told you something?

M. A. I. where did you and D. P. go over Sunday night? Until the next time, keep your business off the corridors. Because some one just might just kick it in the newspaper! Ha! Ha!

Dear Maggie,
I have a problem with one of my classes. I try hard to do my best but no matter how hard I try the teacher is never satisfied. Please give me a bit of advice.

Struggling Student

Dear Struggling Student,
Maybe you can do more than you are doing and your teacher knows this. So why not have a nice friendly talk with your teacher asking him questions that would help you in your struggle for success.

Dear Maggie,
Everytime I get a girlfriend, there are some girls

SUCCESS

Success is speaking words in cheering other people's ways.

In doing just the best you can.

With every task and every plan.

It's silence when your speech would hurt.

Politeness when your neighbor's curt.

It's deafness when the scandal flows.

And sympathy with others woes.

It's loyalty when duty calls, It's courage when disaster falls.

It's patience when the hours are long.

It's found in laughter and in song.

It's in the silent time of prayer.

In happiness and in despair.

In all of life and nothing else.

We find the thing we call success.

Dear Talked About,
Approach these young ladies in a nice way to find out why these stories are being told on you. Explain to them how they are ruining your reputation. You should also tell the young

Freshmen Students Study Speech

Book Of Week

The RICHMOND RAID, by John Brick. If you are interested in brushing up on your American History painlessly, then try our recommendation. During the month of February in 1864, the Union Army decided to execute one of the most daring maneuvers during the whole war. The plan was to penetrate Lee's army and get behind the Confederate lines. Included in the plan was burning the city of Richmond, freeing the prisoners and capturing Jefferson Davis along with other confederate leaders.

A series of exciting events occurred and things did not work out exactly as planned. The author does a remarkable job of presenting realistic battle scenes within the novel and yet along with this war-like atmosphere, he also presents a touching love story.

This novel is loaded with excellent character sketches, historical data and many interesting sidelights on the civil war. It is highly recommended.

After studying public speaking thoroughly, we went on to study parliamentary and courtroom procedure. Various members of the class acted out the roles of judge, clerk, bailiff and etc. We then went on to acting. Under acting we studied the "Genesis of Acting" and "Pantomiming."

We found "Acting" to be very interesting.

In the past six weeks our instructor, Mr. O. Davis, has proved to us that "Speech is as interesting as it is important."

The male members of Lake Shore High School Faculty will present the social event of the season. Tonight December 9th, at 8 p. m. in the school's gymnasium. A womanless wedding will be staged. This promises to be the most hilarious, as well as, entertaining event ever to be presented at the school.

All male members of the faculty will participate serving as Bridesmaids and members of the Bridal party.

Ushers and Flower "boys" will come from the ranks of faculty members and their male offsprings.

A most entertaining evening is promised all in attendance. The surprise element of the wedding will be the Bride. This is a closely guarded secret and the identity of the lovely, charming and beautiful "Bride" will not be revealed until the beginning of the beautiful strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march.

The public is cordially invited. Admission is 50c for students and $1.00 for adults. Tickets may be purchased at Lake Shore High School or from most of the elementary schools in the Glades area.

D. C. T. Students

These four Lake Shore High D. C. T. Trainees attended a meeting in Vero Beach. They are — Gloria McCall, Charlie Oliver, Mildred Dixon and Linda Williams. All are employed at Glades General Hospital.

Here we are again students, another juicy tell-all column.

As I was walking down the hall last week I heard a terrible scream coming from the girl's restroom. What was the reason for Linda H. and Tanya C. why were you screaming at each other in speech class?

Mr. Whitehead, try not to make it a habit of running over school signs. Keep your eyes on the road.

Who attracts all the attention in 2nd period English, Karen H.?

Connie V. I here you are you were buying a marriage license last week. Riley F. do you know anything about this?

Linda H., if Jimmy J. doesn't want to be judge, don't make him!

Is it true Beverly S. cut her hair for her boyfriend? She must be hooked.

Hey, what was in the tea at the football banquet, Sara F. and Pat H.? You didn't seem to be able to hold it.

Ronald S., nobody believes you killed a deer. We want proof.

Watch out kids I hear the girls are learning some pretty wild things in Home Ec.

Herbert G., who taught you how to climb trees?

Aggie G., I wish you and Cliff C. would get it straightened out who owes who what.

Kitt W., your brother, Barney wants to know if you are for real.

Jack K., I don't think you need anything either, even if Mrs. Lanier does say so. Jan W. and Lamar G., who is coming home this month? Have fun!

The school is expecting Luke's Losers to be Coach Luke's champs at the end of this season. Good luck boys.

Hey Seniors, what were all the secrets about last Wednesday?

How do you like the new "stardust diggers" boys? See ya'll at the game tomorrow.

Seniors Say Thanks

The Senior class would like to thank three persons who were responsible for the successful float:

Mr. Lanier for her loyalty to the seniors and as a leader.

Janice White for her long hours of service and endurance.

Bobby Kunkel for his contributions and hard work.

Without these three, the Seniors would have never succeeded with their float which won second place.

The Ravenous Wife

By Jo Ellen Hudspeth

This was the eleventh or maybe the twelfth day of the long unending torture in this cramped fallout shelter while each moment, my hatred swelled for my wife, the pig!

I remember how at first we had had enough to eat and were even wasteful with the food. Especially my greedy wife who would rather eat everything and herself than share with the others.

After maybe two or three days of this extravagant we men realized that there should be a ration on the food. We allotted the food to the men, women and children. Now I look back on those times when everyone spoke that I saw my wife sneaking food. My knowing write a short story of his own containing some of Poe's own well-known elements of horror and suspense. Here are a few examples of what they produced.

Who Is It?

This week is starring another Senior who should be given special recognition for her hard work on the Seniors Van Camp!

That time finally came. We had only a small portion left for the two babies.

By the time our next period of sleeping came, our ravenous snoring caused a stir. I heard my wife, the fat pig, slowly crawling to the shelf where the last bit of food was left. A feeling of detestation came over me, and knowing her, I slowly rose and crawled to that table where she hid her food.

I thrust my hand over her mouth and pulled the rope. She didn't make a noise. I knew that I must work fast as I decided to dismember the body into small sections. I wrapped the sections and placed them in the refrigerator. After pouring the blood and left over pieces down the disposal, I returned to my bed.

I had not been asleep long when I heard a pounding on the door of the shelter. Finding out that it was three civil defense men, I opened the door. They told me the danger period was over. By this time everyone was awake and getting ready to leave.

They told me the danger period was over. By this time everyone was awake and getting ready to leave. I remembered the freshly cut meat I had planned to have. All my plans and work were in vain because these people would not stay and feast with me.

Now as I sit in my prison cell, I still look back with- out any remorse on that happening knowing that I shall spend the rest of my life in pleasure without the pig.

Laura Livingston - Fat! Love at the back. Is it Jimmy Jackson? One thing for sure, it's a really pretty!

Karen Harris - Oh, I'd be embarrassed if it were me. I don't like it! Looks like Danae.

Ronnie Smith - I'd say it's a girl! A senior! hum... What happened?

Pat Bowen - By looking at the head, I'd say it is Coach Crawford.

Terry Lee - Could it be Linda Hollingsworth because of the big mouth? Ha, Ha, Hey, Linda, here you are!

Gary Walker - Somebody that's fat, must be Linda Ha, Ha, Ha!! Linda Hollingsworth - It's not fair to ask me to sit and laugh at how funny it looks!

Well, by now you all have guessed that it is Janice White! Ham's she changed?

and my story. On an impulse, I invited her to pretend I needed companionship in my hour of grief. As they seated themselves, I began to speak of how much my dear aunt had meant to me. As I spoke though, I smelled smoke!

"Do you smell smoke?" I asked.

"No," they answered, "It is just the fireplace."

I continued my conversation. Then, to my extreme horror I saw that one wall had suddenly burst into flames! To my even greater horror and amazement, I observed that the smoke seemed to form the image of that evil ring I glanced at in an oblivious manner.

"They're pretending they don't see it. They're laughing at me! They know, they know everything!" I thought wildly.

I lunged for the door, but it would not open. As I began to pound and bang on it they looked at me in a maze. The flames flicked closer and closer.

Suddenly I found myself shouting, "I confess! I confess! I killed her! Put out the fire. I don't want to burn to death."

"What fire?" they asked me with astonishment.

As I pointed toward the door, a moment filled me. There was no fire.

The Varsity Rams began their basketball season with a victory over Leonard of 63-39, last Friday.

The Junior Varsity also acquired their first with a final score of 49-32.

Leonard High is a new school, with grades only to the tenth, but even so they played a fine game.

Outstanding players were Cary Jones, top scorer, who had a 20 point total, and Bryant Davis who earned 16.

Another fine player who may show more promise was Quen Wilson. Wilson scored 8 points.

Varsity players are Tony Letour, Gary Jones, George McDonald, Harry Chaney, Scottie Markham, Ken Brane, Ivan Willis, Quen Wilson, Ronny Marshall, Enrique Roldan, Bryant Davis, Micky McGahee, Ronny Ratliff, Eddie McAllister, Terry Marshall, Perez, and Johnny Williams.

Coaches Therrell Luke, varsity, and Rodney Webb, Junior Varsity, deserve a pat on the back for the "well-played" games.

Fathers Feast Football Boys

The mighty Rams and their fathers were honored guests of the Athletic Council at a football banquet banquet November 29 in the cafeteria. After delicious steaks and potatoes were served by the B-team cheerleaders, Coach Bill Burke introduced his guest speaker for the night Mr. Neil Schmidt, Coach at Florida State University.

Mr. Schmidt's topic was "Athletics to Life." He mentioned that if he was scouting a bow to play for F. S. U. he would look for three things: A funnybone so he can cheer the team up if things get rough and to keep better relations between the boys, a winsome to dream and hope for, so that he can pain for things he wants to accomplish in life; and finally the backbone to work toward his goal.

Coach Bill Burke recognized all the players individually as he called them before the group by grade levels to receive their letters.

Executive Secretary of the Suncoast Conference, Jim Maynor presented the Western Division Suncoast Conference Football trophy to Ray Sullivan and John Lee Henderson.

Thompson were given to outstanding senior players on the team. Trophies were given to the outstanding back was presented to Gary Walker. The C. E. Christian was given to the outstanding lineman was presented to Cary Wall. Our Unsung Hero was Riley Poff and he was given the Promise of a trophy to come later.

The highlighter of the evening however, was the most valuable player award given by George Scarborough and presented by Mr. Morris to Mike Shivers for his outstanding achievements on the field.

Captain Cary Wall and Mike Shivers thanked the coaches for their help during the season by giving them a "conditioner" to put in the field house. As Cary Wall said, "It's to keep the coaches cool."

Glenn Wolf Recognized By Beta Journal

Glenn Wolf was again received scholastic recognition, this time by the National Beta Club Journal.

Entitled "B. S. P." a science-fiction short story appeared in the November issue of the Beta Club Journal.

Printed under "Contributions" it covered approximately three pages.

Glenn reported that he wrote the story in about a year and a half ago along with his snapshot and the required information concerning his hobbies and activities. He is listed as a sophomore in the Journal but is a Senior at this time.

It appears that the Beta Club is not the only slow publication.

Seniors Take S. A. T. Test

About 25 members of the senior class took the S. A. T. tests and the achievement tests, Saturday, in the library. These tests results will be sent to the colleges the title applicant is desiring to go to.

S. A. T. is the abbreviated form of Scholastic Aptitude Test. It is offered by the C. E. E. B. (College Entrance Examination Board).

A non-profit membership organization, whose tests are available to all schools and colleges.

The test took three hours in total, but to the students it seemed a shorter time than that. This test was necessary for students who were applying to colleges in the state of Florida.

The S. A. T. tests were in two divisions: Math and English. Here were problems of different degrees of difficulty.

At noon the group that took only the S. A. T. test left with headsets while the few who took the achievement tests stayed until about 5:00 p.m.

These results will be sent to the students who took the test.

Letter To The Editor

November 30, 1985

Miss Joyce Kirchman Belle Glade High School Belle Glade, Florida Dear Miss Kirchman:

In reference to your editorial, "In Rebutte of the Above," published in the Belle Glade Herald Ram Page, November 23, 1985.

To an individual who wanted only to point out to the public interest, a serious problem for all citizens, your article appeared to carry an air of childish indignation towards such an individual and your point was almost pointless.

I can assure you that there never were any "good days," in safety... this was merely used as a figure of speech... referring to my pre-driving days I do not believe that you can truly say that safety on the part of the driver and pedestrian is what it should be in Belle Glade. Upon talking with teachers in the lower grades, I found that there is certainly a lack of "safety sermons," where school time accidents on the all time rise?

Let it also be understood that being a pedestrian or driver should not, in any instance, hinder a person from making an educated honest appraisal of a serious situation.

In no other city that I have been in, have I found students, who think it a game to walk in front of an oncoming vehicle - just because they have the "right of way." I am sure that if you check your state safety booklet, you will find that a pedestrian is to first check the flow of traffic and assume his own responsibility when crossing a street or highway. This is to be done at a proper location. It does not make provision for students to walk five to eight abreast down the middle of any street or highway they choose. It does not make provision for any student or pedestrian to cross the street at any time he chooses and disrupt the safe flow of traffic... regardless of who he is or where he is going.

It is far easier for a human being to stop than for a 24 ton auto to do the same... for the sake of a moment... a game of seeing whether an auto will stop. But the big question is: What if an auto fails to stop for this game? Must some student lose his life for some childish attitude?... then what differences will it make who had the right of way... or where they were going and how much of a hurry they are in? I can assure you that it certainly won't make him any less dead. Having the right of way is never an excuse for an accident.

I am sincerely sorry that you do not own an automobile; however, I fail to see how this material mode of transportation affects your view as an "educated citizen," on such a timely problem.

Let me also express my sincere and deepest sympathy for your present economic status. Enclosed find one dollar to begin the "JOYCE KIRCHMAN AUTO FUND CAMPAIGN," if a car means the difference between safety and accident. Note it is also my contribution to our present war on poverty.

Cordially yours, J. Ivan Willis

It is to your credit, Ivan, that you are so concerned with the public welfare and safety. If only all students and adults, drivers and pedestrians alike, would take such an interest in these important matters, neither of us would have to worry about it. Thank you for writing.

Ring Of Fire

By Allison Cann

Of course I am not insane. Does an insane man enjoy beauty? The longer I stare upon her beautiful ring, the stronger its spell held me, and the more I desired it. But she never realized that I was in love with her finger.

By degrees it became an obsession with me to take possession of the ring. My mind, Cautionary, my clever, cunning plan was completed.

As the clock struck twelve, I crept out of bed into the still, silent night. With great skill, I quietly struck the cord across the top of the stairway. Could an insane man conceive such a plan, which was foolproof in its very simplicity? No, I certainly was not insane!

"Fire, fire!" I cried, banging on her door. As she came running out, I yelled, "The back stairs, the back stairs, up is the only way."

One low moon was the only sound she made as she collapsed in a heap at the foot of the stairs. Eagerly I grasped the ring and pulled it off of her limp hand.

Suddenly there was a great pounding on the door. Who could it be at this hour? But I had nothing to fear. With great foresight I had removed the cord from the stairs. Everything was just as it should be.

Upon opening the door, I was confronted by two men.

"We heard someone yell fire. Do you need help?" they inquired.

"No," I assured them. "A great misfortune has occurred. My dear aunt has been having frightening nightmares. Tonight she had another, and believing in it so thoroughly, she ran screaming toward the stairs where she tripped and fell. I have sent for the doctor, but alas she is too late. Nothing can be done for the poor woman now."

Gluefully, I chuckled to myself. I had fooled them completely by my manner and my story. On an impulse, I invited her to pretend I needed companionship in my hour of grief. As they seated themselves, I began to speak of how much my dear aunt had meant to me. As I spoke though, I smelled smoke!

"Do you smell smoke?" I asked.

"No," they answered, "It is just the fireplace."

I continued my conversation. Then, to my extreme horror I saw that one wall had suddenly burst into flames! To my even greater horror and amazement, I observed that the smoke seemed to form the image of that evil ring I glanced at in an oblivious manner.

"They're pretending they don't see it. They're laughing at me! They know, they know everything!" I thought wildly.

I lunged for the door, but it would not open. As I began to pound and bang on it they looked at me in a maze. The flames flicked closer and closer.

Suddenly I found myself shouting, "I confess! I confess! I killed her! Put out the fire. I don't want to burn to death."

"What fire?" they asked me with astonishment.

As I pointed toward the door, a moment filled me. There was no fire.

Senior Placement Tests Scores Returned

Results of the Statewide Twelfth Grade Testing Program were returned to seniors at a short class meeting on December 1 in the cafeteria.

The tests were taken by approximately 75,000 seniors in 433 high schools in the state of Florida. The tests consisted of five different sections which were aptitude (scholastic), English, social studies, natural science, and mathematics.

Individual conferences with each senior will be held in the near future to discuss the results, as well as future plans. Any questions regarding the results prior to that time, please contact Coach Luke in the Guidance Office.

Missionary Baptist Church Youth Revival Dec. 10-11

GEORGE GARNER
Evangelist

GENE STACY
Song Director

The First Independent Missionary Baptist Church of Belle Glade extends a special invitation to the young people of the Glades area to attend our Youth Revival beginning Friday and Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. and Sunday morning at 9:45 a. m.

The Evangelist, Bro. George Garner, is presently attending the Florida Baptist Institute and Seminary in Lakeland and has just completed two years as president of the Florida Baptist Youth Assoc. He is the twenty-year old son of Dr. Albert Garner, who is President of the Seminary and also a noted author and lecturer.

The song service will be directed by Bro. Gene Stacy with his brother, Wayne as pianist. There will be special singing.

A special gift will be given at the close of the revival Sunday morning to the young person bringing the most people during the revival.

Rev. C. J. Cupp To Speak Sun.

Rev. C. J. Cupp, of Ft. Lauderdale will be guest minister at the Sunday A. M. service at the Church of God.

Rev. Cupp is a former minister of the church here and a good crowd is expected to turn out for this service.

Community Christmas Tree For 700 Children

The Community Christmas Tree, an annual project of the Women's Civic League, is planned for December 24, 1965 at six p. m. in the Lake Shore High School Cafeteria. More than seven hundred children is expected this year. An appeal is made to the community to help us make their Christmas a little merrier.

There needed are 18 bushels of oranges, six boxes of apples, three bushels of tangerines, 100 lbs. of nuts in the shell, 20 lbs. of candies, individually wrapped and 700 single serving cups of ice cream.

Persons desiring to donate any of these items may deliver them Dec. 23 to 833 S. W. Avenue A, the Housewife's residence, or call 996-7205 or 996-5929 for prompt pick-up service.

Church of God Has New Look

This is the lovely and attractive Church of God, on the corner of S. E. 3rd St. and Ave. E., which just a short time ago, was newly decorated inside and out.

The actual remodeling of the sanctuary began August 1, 1965 and was completed October 30. Rev. Madison Sindle, present pastor, who came September 1963, took over the plans of the expansion of the church, which included the construction of a building consisting of nine new Sunday School rooms, fully equipped church kitchen and an air conditioned Fellowship Hall. This building was used until the new church was ready.

The sanctuary was completely remodeled, so that there is very little resemblance of the old church. Outside remodeling included plastering the walls, re-designing the front steps with brick; the placing of an aluminum cross against a background of yellow stained glass which is lighted at night. Newly constructed planters with plants completely landscape the outside.

Inside the Church has a suspended ceiling, indirect fluorescent lighting; central air conditioning; complete sound system with speakers in the nursery; and a completely redesigned elevated choir.

The Church purchased all new pews, altars, pulpit, sedilia and screen in front of the choir. The Church and Choir is covered with beautiful red carpet. A completely equipped nursery makes it convenient for mothers to attend worship services while their children are well tended. As air conditioned pastor's study and church office with paneled walls, carpeting and modern lighting has also been provided for conducting counselling.

The majority of the financing for all that has been done on the Church, has been done by our Ladies Willing Workers Band, known as the LWWB. They are constantly working together on various projects in order that the financial needs of the building programs could be carried out throughout the years.

Rainbow Set Dec. 17 For Christmas Bazaar

Final plans were made Monday night by the Rainbow Girls for their Christmas Bazaar to be held Dec. 17 from 4 to 9 p. m. at the Masonic Temple.

Linda Rockwell, presided at the meeting, as worthy advisor in the absence of Susie Winterrowd, who entered the Glades General Hospital Monday for surgery on Tuesday.

The Bazaar will feature homemade articles such as aprons, rag dolls, stuffed animals, Christmas candies, and a variety of baked goods and candy. Come by and browse around Friday, Dec. 17 from 4 to 9 p. m. and help out the girls, as they have worked hard in order to raise funds for their treasury.

Four girls were initiated into the order in an impressive ceremony. They were Betty Wedgworth, Joanne Harris, June Harris and Marilyn Stokes.

It was announced the next meeting will be Monday, Dec. 20.

Today's Meditation

Read Acts 9:1-8

It is an agonizing situation, and who on earth can set me free from the clutches of my own sinful nature? —Romans 7:25 (Phillips)

A SHORT distance outside the city of Damascus, a proud, young Pharisee journeyed with a small company of persons authorized to hunt down Christians in that area.

He was well-educated, determined, and burning with zeal; no one would have guessed the spiritual conflict going on in his mind. He was in the midst of an agonizing situation in which any person finds himself when he becomes conscious of the sinfulness of his nature and longs to be delivered from his sins.

On the Damascus Road, Saul of Tarsus experienced man's need of a Savior and found the Savior to meet that need. No wonder that later he wrote, as Paul the apostle, "If any one is in Christ, he is a new creation; the old has passed away, behold, the new has come." PRAYER: Our Father, we thank Thee for the sense of freedom and peace that comes to us when we surrender to Jesus Christ as Savior and Lord. We pray that our lives may be a constant witness to His saving and keeping power. In His name we ask, praying as He taught us, "Our Father who are in heaven . . . Amen."

It snowed yesterday and when it stopped, I walked along the creek in a world of frosty splendor. The woods were hushed in majestic stillness, and I tread softly. A Jay screeched overhead, and bending trees shivered stealthily, with squeaking, frozen branches. The falls at the curve of the creek stood immobilized with heartfrost and icicles, but behind near I heard soft and surely the murmur of the moving creek beneath the icebound surface.

It came to me, how like that creek, my faith has been. At times this faith has been covered by rimes of doubt and selfishness. Often it has been embittered by anguish and despair. But always under that glacial exterior there coursed a stream of consciousness that knew no turning from God—and the things I had been taught from childhood.

How glad I am my parents took me to the church and brought me up with such a sure knowledge of God's love that it sustained me even when I tried to turn from His ways.
